25X1C Appropriations Committee staff, whom I told of our plans to set up a small
[] He saw no problems.

25X1 9. [] Explained to Ed Braswell, Chief Counsel, and 25X1C Jim Woolsey, General Counsel, Senate Armed Services Committee, our plans to establish a small [] They raised no questions.

I also reviewed with Braswell and Woolsey the problem of expediting a Committee vote on the Colby confirmation. I later discussed the matter with Senator Jackson who fully appreciated the desirability of early action on the matter and promised to take it up with Senator Symington at the first opportunity.

Later in the evening Senator Jackson called me at home and said he had managed to have a word with Senator Symington on the question of a vote on the confirmation but Symington had pointed out the problems involved. Jackson said he would continue to try to press for early action and let me know the result.

25X1 10. [] Left a chart of the Intelligence Community with Guy McConnell, on the staff of Senate Appropriations Committee, for Chairman McClellan's use.

25X1A 11. [] Delivered a memorandum, relating 25X1 to certain Agency documents cited by [] to James Woolsey, General Counsel, Senate Armed Services Committee.
